My 4 yr old brought home "The teacher from the black lagoon" and enjoyed it because we could explain that the little boy was just dreaming. He also liked this book because the teacher is Mrs Green from the first book and the things the students do are not as graphic as in the other books. He did NOT like "The Nurse from the Black Lagoon" it was a more graphic and could not be explained away as a dream. He's just a little too young for that one.

This was a great book to introduce on the first day of school. I used it with my third graders to talk about what my expectations for them should be the entire year, and we did an anchor chart to go along with it.

As before - very enthusiastically received - read by two 7 year olds while waiting at the dentist - they loved it - got the humour especially the 'dot the 'i's cross the 't's illustration - wanted more....fortunately I have bought 3 more for their birthday.

I love these books. My son started reading these in the second grade with his class and we started collecting them all. They're short and easy to read for the beginner reader and all have a great message!!

working in a first grade classroom, i can totally relate to a lot of this! Too funny!

My 7 year old granddaughter loves reading the Black Lagoon series
